Wednesday - 20 December 1961

1. [redacted] Jay Sourwine, Senate Internal Security Subcommittee, telephoned mentioning the new book on CIA and the one paragraph concerning the [redacted] case. He then asked if we had employed [redacted] at any time since his termination from State. I told him we had not.

[redacted]

2. [redacted] Telephoned Representative Clyde Doyle's office (D., Calif.) and talked with Miss Tucker who had earlier tried to reach someone in the Agency and had been bounced around winding up in [redacted] office. 4. [redacted] Left with Ralph Hutto, Senate Internal Security Subcommittee staff, the corrected page proofs of the Italian version of Mr. Helms' testimony on Communist Forgeries.
